Washington, July 15.-Senator Cannon, of Utah, returned to-day from a visit of inspection at Fort McPherson, Georgia, and to General a brother, Lieutenant-Colonel Cannon, of Torrey's riders. Senator Cannon says;

I never have seen anything like the patriotic enthusiasm of the wounded soldiers at Fort McPherson. The wounded of the 24th Infantry, which came from Fort Douglas, Utah, and who participated in the battle of San Juan are there, and the officers and men almost to a man are anytous, and capar to get how in the few participated in the battle of san Juan are there, and the officers and men almost to a man are anxious and eager to get back in the fray. While there I saw the effects of the Mauser buillets. In one wound inflicted in the foot the orifice of emergence was eight times as large as the orifice of entrance, and it was, moreover, rough and jagged.

OLIVETTE TO COME HERE.

SHE HAS TWO HUNDRED AND EIGHTY

WOUNDED ABOARD, INCLUDING SEVERAL OFFICERS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Newport News, Va., July 15.—The Plant liner Olivette, the third United States transport to arrive at Old Point Comfort with sick and wounded soldiers from Siboney, dropped anchor this afternoon at I o'clock in Hampton Roads, directly off the Hygela Hotel, a short distance from the transports City of Washington and Break-

The Olivette was expected this morning, but she experienced rougher weather on the voyage than did the other ships, and was delayed a few hours off Hatteras. Her arrival, however, was witnessed by an immense crowd, and there was keen disappointment manifested when it was learned that the two hundred and eighty unfortunate men aboard would not be landed at Old Point for transfer to the field hospital. In spite of this fact the people thronged the pier and the principal thoroughfare all the afternoon hoping that the plans of the surgeons would be changed, and that they could get a glimpse of the brave men who risked their lives for their country at Santlago, and who are said to be the most dangerously wounded of any that have yet been brought from the front.

Tampa for duty.

Captain PUTNAM B. STRONG, assistant adjustant-seneral. United States Volunteers, is relieved from dution the staff of Brigadier General MARCUS P. Miller, United States Volunteers, and will report to Major-Gereral ELWELL S. OTIS, United States Volunteers, to accompany him to the Philippine Islands.

Acting Assistant Surgeon J. A. DUNWODY, United States Army, will proceed from Cripple Creek, Col. to Tampa, Fla., for duty.

Major JOHN G. DAVIS. The Olivette files the flag of the Red Cross and also the yellow quarantine flag. It was rumored at Old Point that there is yellow fever on board the ship, and that it was only decided Lee's Army corps at Jacksonville, where he has at the last minute to carry the victims to New-York, where they could be put ashore at the quarantine station, there not being sufficient accommodations for two hundred and eighty men at Fisherman's Island, the place where patients suffering from contagious diseases in this vicin-

Secretary Aiger is anxious to bring the | but would proceed at once to New-York, where entire Army back as soon as it can be done with the wounded can be better handled, in view safety to the men themselves and without of the large number of wounded yet to be sent

The condition of many of the officers and men aboard the ship is precarlous, and doubts are entertained of the recovery of some of the he roes. Among the wounded officers are General Huskins, Major Brody, Major Bells, Major Mc-Clintock, Captain Knox and Lieutenants Devereaux. Nichols, Fiscus and Rodgers, all of the United States Army.

General Haskins is the first officer of his rank to return to the United States wounded. There is only one Cuban aboard the Ollvette and no Spanlards, notwithstanding the many rumors circulating to the effect that the transport brought back a number of Spanish prisoners who were frightfully wounded and needed the attention of skilled surgeons.

At 5:25 o'clock this evening the Olivette weighed anchor and headed out of Hampton Roads for the Virginia Capes on her way to New York, where she will arrive in the morning The United States naval hospital-ship Solace Hampton Reads to morrow morning, according to the hospital surgeons at Fort Monroe. OLIVETTE EXPECTED THIS MORNING. SOME OF THE WOUNDED TO BE SENT TO THE

MARINE HOSPITAL ON STATEN ISLAND AND OTHERS TO BROOKLYN.

The hospital ship Olivette is expected at this pert this morning with many wounded soldiers from the front. The vessel will first put in at who will be taken to the Marine Hespital. She will then go to Pacific-st., Brooklyn, where the rest of the wounded will be taken ashore. Eighty-five of them are to go to St. Peter's Hospital, Henry-at. and the others to the Long Island College Hospital. Major George H. Bushnell, surgeon of the Regular Army, arrived in this city yesterday morning from Washington. He will look after the distribution badly hart will be taken to the hospitals. These able to travel will be sent to their homes. Major Bushnell is acting under the direct orders of the surgeon-general of the Army.

FROM THE CHICKAMAUGA CAMP.

TO INSURE GOOD WATER THE GOVERNMENT MAY * PURCHASE A $100,000 SPRING. Chattanooga, Tenn., July 15 (Special).-General

Wade this morning assumed active command of the Army at Chickamauga. General Brooke started for Washington on a fast train after midnight last night. He is expected back Monday. General Haines's brigade was to-day placed under orders to prepare to move. The next order will be to move. This brigade will form a part of General Wilson's division, which is already under orders to go to Porto Rico. Quartermaster Lee this morning directed that a large amount of supplies be issued to the regiments of Haines's brigade, which was done during the day, The 5th Massachusetts Regiment has completed arrangements for a long twenty-four hours' march away from camp, and has sent ahead to negeti-ate for the use of suitable land for a camp site. Other regiments are anxious to follow this example. A memorandum of the Young Men's Christian Association work done at the park states that fifty five men are on duty in the twenty-three regimental and brigade tents in operation. Thirty-sever mental and brigade tents in operation. Thirty-seven of the forty-five regiments in camp are thus provided for, 75,000 sheets of paper and 60,000 envelopes being used weekly. The distilled lee-water plant has closed one canteen tent. All of the tents are equipped with free reading and writing material, hymn books and games.

The water supply at the Leiter Hospital has grown to be a serious question. At the present time the hospital is supplied with an abundance of water from Crawfish Springs. These springs are owned by private parties—not by the Government. The owners have forbidden the Government to use the water, but will not cut off the hospital supply as long as there are patients there. They give as their reason for this action the destruction by the soldiers. It is understood that the Government is negotiating for the purchase of the springs, and that the price is $190,000.
